

Join Us at the Capitol for...

Singing and Dancing...

Whether traveling by bus, car or airplane, visitors to Ambassadors for Aging Day have a good time as they share a common message: Older Floridians are essential to the future of their communities and Florida.

Learning New Things...

Exhibitors share information about retirement trends, prescription drugs, long-term care options, intergenerational programs, and how to be effective advocates. Aging network professionals and “grass roots” advocates known as Ambassadors for Aging connect with legislators and other government officials.

...Ambassadors for Aging Day!

Floridians of all ages will join the Department of Elder Affairs in bringing the adventure of aging to the state Capitol during the Legislative Session.

Wednesday, April 27, 2005 ■ 10 a.m. – 3 p.m.
